Detective Report – March 2014

During the month of March the case involving the boat theft Case OO-14-110 was solved. The boat taken on or about 02-14-14 was recovered later the same month. Information obtained in early March led to a farm house on Marine Drive where the boat had been parked and stripped out. The suspect in this case was the same one who fled from Deputies and was later arrested at the address on 284th St NW. The witness, property owner assisted in identifying the boat and person responsible for taking it. He had also witnessed the selling of the boat motors. This information eventually led to a construction trailer being towed by the same suspect. After writing a warrant on the trailer I was able to locate it. The trailer was also stolen from Camano Island. It had been missing for almost a year. The trailer was also able to be tied to the same suspect.

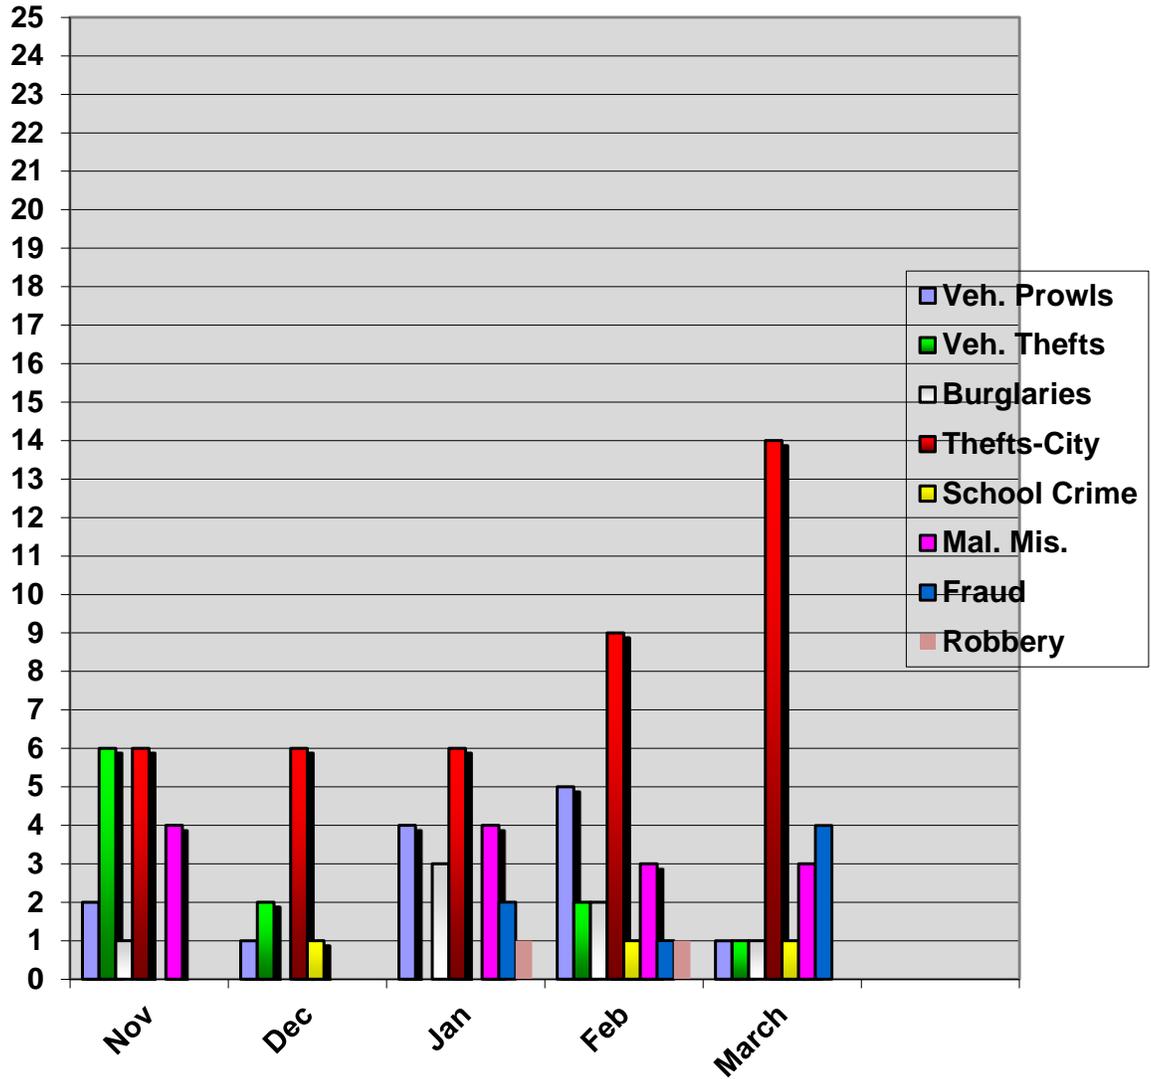

The contents of the trailer contained several tools which could not be tied to any victims although the plate from the stolen trailer was amongst the suspects belongings.

The suspects girlfriend was arrested a week or so after this and implicated the suspect in a series of crimes referenced above.

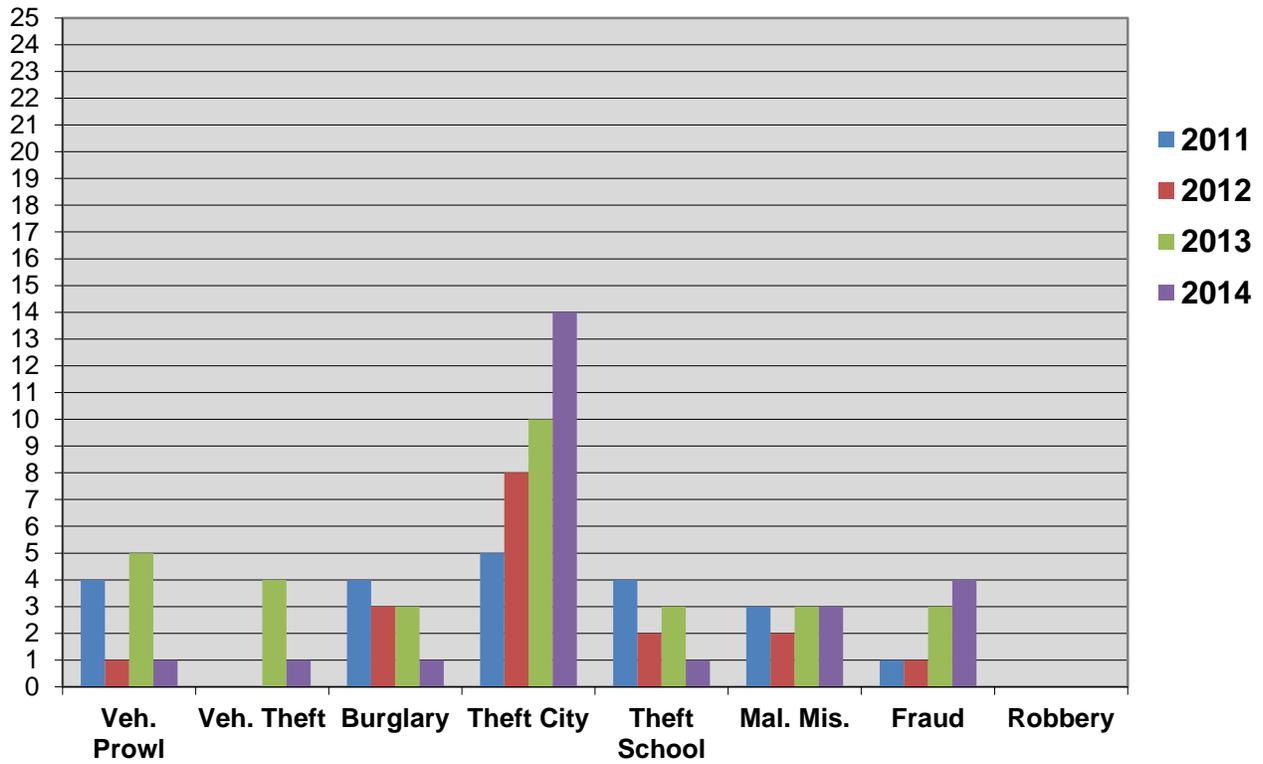

I will be referring several felony charges against this person including the girlfriend.

The car prowl involving the purse found at the bus stop and several counts of fraud has also been for the most part solved. Two suspects have been developed and I am in the process of attempting to contact them soon .
